9. Spring mini-camp in May
10. Summer vacations - July
 - a. summer workouts are technically optional but coaches evaluate players all summer long and use those evaluations to set the depth chart going into camp.
 - b. The best time to take a vacation is July.
 - c. If you miss training camp starting in August, it will set you back.
 1. You will miss many days of camp and there aren't that many to begin with.
 2. Someone else will be playing in your spot while you are gone.
 3. You will miss at least 3-4 additional days due to mandatory heat acclimatization when you return before you can put on full pads.
 4. Try your best to schedule vacations in July so this doesn't happen
11. Weight room
 - a. we need to see kids in there if they're not playing a spring sport
 - b. morning sessions now available for kids playing a spring sport or work commitments
 - c. In addition to Coach McConnell, Anthony Fletcher has volunteered to work with our kids for Speed/Agility; his price quote was out of our price range. Many thanks to Anthony for volunteering his time.
 1. COVID waiver needs to be signed for this training at the Armory
 2. Available here:
https://yfcmp.org/ministries/canonsburg_the_armory_youth_center/armory_rental_information/release_of_liability_covid_19_waiver/
 3. Begins on Monday 3/15 at 3:45pm at Armory Youth Center
 - d. We are lucky to have a certified, experienced strength coach in our HS, many HS programs don't have this luxury.
 1. Kids don't need to spend their money on personal training.
 2. Kids who opt for personal training may do this IN ADDITION to what we do, but never INSTEAD OF. We sweat together as a team.
